

PENNSYLVANIA CONVENTION CENTER

Philadelphia, PA

This project is a keynote of Keating Partners formidable presence in the continuous renewal and growth of Philadelphia. Our company managed both phases of the project, a 1.3 million square foot facility that includes over 300,000 square feet of exhibition and meeting space, the largest convention center ballroom on the east coast.

This unique center is woven into the fabric of the City, encompassing the historic train shed and Reading Terminal Market and defining the renewal of countless City landmarks. Our work centered on the many interests of large urban projects: planning, architecture, engineering, multiple City and state agencies and community engagement at many levels...all accomplished over a period spanning two decades.
