

CHILD HEALTH INSTITUTE OF NEW JERSEY

New Brunswick, NJ

The Child Health Institute of New Jersey improves the health of children everywhere by studying the causes of childhood illnesses and developing new treatments and preventions. The research, academic and clinical building is located on the campus of the University of Medicine & Dentistry's Robert Wood Johnson Medical School.

This 154,000 square foot biomedical research center includes 54,000 square feet of laboratory research space; a 21,000 square foot vivarium and 45,000 square feet of clinical research space.

Keating Partners provided project management services on behalf of ownership that spanned conceptual design through construction close-out and occupancy.
